Plant Materials for Conservation and Restoration (HOS 6932)
3 credits
Offered Summer C, odd years only

Course Description
The goal of this course is to understand how to select, produce, and establish native plants for ecological restoration. Students will learn the scientific basis for guidelines on planning revegetation, selecting plant material, and formulating successful conservation and restoration plans for rare, threatened and endangered species.

Pre-requisites
FOR 5157 Principles and Practices of Ecosystem Restoration or instructor approval.

Course Organization
HOS 6932 is a web-based course. The course will be managed using Canvas course management system https://lss.at.ufl.edu/ (click on “e-Learning in Canvas”).

Office Hours for instructors
Rather than holding office hours, I ask that student contact me to arrange individual meeting times in advance. Please take advantage of this arrangement and contact me whenever useful.

Course Goals
The goal of ORH 6932: Plant Materials for Conservation and Restoration is to understand how to select, produce, and establish native plants for ecological restoration.

Learning Objectives
By the end of the semester, students should be able to:

- Discern when active re-vegetation or when natural re-colonization can be relied upon for restoration.
- Explain ecological and horticultural implications of proper plant selection, production, establishment for the purposes of restoration.
- Formulate and justify appropriate conservation and restoration plans for rare, threatened and endangered species.
General Course Expectations
I hope that this will be an exciting and stretching learning experience for you. To that end, we want to be as clear as possible about expectations. It is each student’s responsibility to become familiar with this syllabus and to be aware of required due dates for quizzes, assignments, and communications with the professor. Be active participants in your own learning. Think about course material as it relates to the larger world in which you live and work.

Assessments & Grading
Your grade will be based on:

30% Quizzes (3 each at 10% apiece)
20% Final Exam (cumulative)
25% Peer Teaching Project
   Teach peers about a selected topic in an engaging and thought-provoking manner by producing a narrated lecture. The lecture will be presented to your peers via VoiceThread near the conclusion of the course. Detailed assignment description and grading rubric will be provided.
25% Weekly assignments (Discussion participation on course website)
   Three-week Instructor Check-in: In Week 3 (from 7PM-8PM on Wednesday 5/27/15), there will be a required synchronous group chat with the instructor and classmates to provide an opportunity to field questions and further develop our community of learning. Come prepared with questions and ready to make connections.
   Reading discussion post/Lecture discussion post: Each week students will post at least one Discussion comment on the readings and at least one Discussion comment on the lecture (about a paragraph each). These must be posted by the end of the week (opportunity to post closes on Monday at 10:00am ET). Comments will be graded as unsatisfactory (0/1 point), satisfactory (0.5/1 point), or excellent (1/1 point), and should respond to a critical thinking question posed.

Grade breakdown: Letter grades will be assigned as follows (note: 89.5 will be rounded to 90, 84.5 will be rounded to 85, etc):
94% and above A
90-93% A-
87 - 89% B+
84 - 86% B
80-83% B-
77 - 79% C+
74% - 76 C
70-73% C-
65% - 69 D+
60% - 64 D
Below 60% E
Required and Suggested Course Materials

Required: required readings will be assigned for each weekly unit, these will be provided on the course web site each week.

Suggested:

Teaching Philosophy
My teaching philosophy for this course is to create opportunities for students to experience concepts and practice their thinking within a discipline. Students need rigorous courses with clearly defined expectations and high standards to truly learn and retain concepts.

University of Florida Student Honor Code (Rule 6C1-4.017)
When you enroll at the University of Florida, you pledge to hold yourself and your peers to the standards of high honor required by the student honor code. You are expected to uphold your pledge to honesty and integrity in HOS 6932. Academic misconduct in any form will not be tolerated. University of Florida procedures will be followed to discipline offenders. There will be no warnings! Sanctions will occur on the first offense. To read the Student Honor Code, learn about conduct that constitutes academic dishonesty, and sanctions visit: http://regulations.ufl.edu/chapter4/4017.pdf.

University of Florida Software Use Policy
“All faculty, staff, and students of the University of Florida are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.” (University of Florida Council on Information Technologies and Services. 1994. Office of Information Technologies and Services: http://pirate.ifas.ufl.edu/INDEX.HTML#contact. access date 18-AUG-14).

University of Florida Counseling Services
Students experiencing crisis or personal problems that interfere with their general well-being are encouraged to utilize the University’s counseling resources. The Counseling Center and Student Mental Health provide confidential counseling services at no cost for currently enrolled students. Resources are available on campus for students having personal problems or lacking clear career and academic goals, which interfere with there academic performance. The Counseling Center is located at 301 Peabody Hall (next to Criser Hall). Student Mental Health is located on the second floor of Student Health Services in the infirmary.
